

AN ADULT THOUGHT.

The name has been changed to Ping Pong, a kitchen table game,
I for one do not like it, because it makes it sound so tame.
Because we all are adults, I thought we had progressed,
To playing Table Tennis, which will put us to the test.
Ping Pong is for kiddies, who have a lot of fun,
But it is really very basic, considering what is to come.
When you reach the big table, that's when you learn to play.
As well as becoming skillful, you'll have an enjoyable day.
You don't have to be a champion, you simply have to enjoy,
Simply play with a great big smile, as part of you're winning ploy.
